What's happening at Chester Zoo. Baby chameleons hatch in Chester Zoo first

- Three Cameroon two-horned mountain chameleon babies, which are just 5cm in length, are the first of their kind to hatch at the zoo
- New arrivals are so tiny they fit on the end of a finger
- Species is listed as near threatened with extinction by the International Union for the Conservation of Nature

- Loss of natural habitat is a threat to its survival in the wild
- Colourful chameleons are also victim of the international pet trade

Three colourful chameleons, so tiny they each fit on the end of a finger, have hatched at Chester Zoo.

It's the first time the zoo's reptile experts have successfully bred the species, known as Cameroon two-horned mountain chameleons.

OUR LATEST NEWS & EVENTS

The first in a clutch of three eggs, laid by mum Ruby, hatched in late August with two more following soon after.

Adam Bland, Lead Herpetology Keeper, said:

"These chameleons have a really unusual appearance. They're sometimes referred to as the Cameroon sailfin, owing to a sail-like flap of skin running along their backs. The males of the species boast two large horns just above their upper jaw which they use for jousting with other males.

"Even as babies they have their iconic large eyes which, at their current size, may appear a little too big for their body. However these give them 360° arc vision so they can see in two different directions at once and look out for predators.

"It's the first time we've ever bred the species here at Chester and the team are thrilled."

As their name suggests, the Cameroon twohorned mountain chameleon is found living at altitude in the West African nation of Cameroon.

Dr Gerardo Garcia, Curator of Lower Vertebrates and Invertebrates at the zoo, added:

"These chameleons are thought to live in just 10 locations in the highlands of Cameroon as they only thrive at a very particular altitude (between 700m and 1,900m), in very specific forest habitat. As much of the highlands of Cameroon comprise of savannah and grasslands, it really restricts their range. Sadly, with that already small amount of available habitat being affected by human activity - degradation, agriculture and climate change - it's making these chameleons more and more vulnerable.

"Another big threat to their survival is the international pet trade. Thousands of live chameleons have been taken from the wild and traded from Cameroon in the last dozen years."

What to do in the Garden in January

In frosty weather little can be done in the garden. The ground is too hard to dig or plant and the lawn should not be walked

English Countryside Winter Scene

Despite the low temperatures and short daylight hours, there some useful tasks that can be done. If the weather is mild, you can still plant roses and bare rooted shrubs and trees. At this is time of year a heated greenhouse has great appeal, especially when the weather is too cold and wet to work outside. The warmth of a heated cold-frame or greenhouse or even a sunny indoor window enables you to sow annuals that need a long growing season and start of those early vegetable crops. Roots of favourite herbs, can also be lifted and brought indoors, to provide fresh shoots and leaves for winter flavour.

Winter digging is necessary for beds and borders that need to be planted in early spring. The earlier this is done the better, allowing time for frosts to act and break down the soil. The longer any rough clods of soil are exposed to frost, the easier it will be to get a fine tilth in spring. While digging, it is a good idea to work in plenty of well-rotted manure or garden compost at the same time, thus improving the soil's texture and richness.

on. Although there is very little work to do, January ushers in the beginning of a new year that is full of promise in the garden.

If you have planted any trees or shrubs during the winter months, check that they haven't been lifted by frost. Once lifted, they can rock in the wind and their roots will be slower to get established. Re-firm the plants by pressing down on the surrounding soil with your feet. You may also need to stake any tall or exposed plants to prevent further wind rock.

If the surface of water features or a pond has frozen solid, and particularly if it contains fish, break the ice with care. If the ice is very thick, use a little boiling water rather than a hammer, to avoid shock waves which can kill the creatures beneath.

Planning Next Seasons Garden

The long winter evenings provide plenty of time to browse through seed catalogues and plan new projects in the garden. Late January to early February is an ideal time to visit garden centres to buy seeds, tubers and bulbs for the coming season. If you are ordering products from a seed catalogue, or over the internet, it should be done as early as possible or they may arrive too late for their proper sowing or planting dates.

Maintain and Check Garden Tools and Equipment

Make sure that mechanical equipment such as mowers, rotovators, edgers, strimmers and hedge trimmers are in good working order. If any need repairing or sharpening, take them in for servicing by a professional.

Singapore - the very name summons visions of the mysterious east.

The commercial centre of the South East Asia, this island city-state of four million people is a metropolis of modern high-rise buildings, chinese shop-houses with red-tiled roofs, sturdy Victorian buildings, buddhist temples and Arab Bazaars.

Founded in 1819 by Sir Stamford Raffles of the fabled East India Company, the city is a melting pot of people and cultures. Malay, Chinese, English and Tamil are official languages. Buddhism, Taoism, Islam, Hinduism and Christianity are the major faiths.

Singapore is an everfascinating island boasting colourful traditions, luxurious hotels and some of the finest duty-free shopping in the world. Lying just 85 miles North of the equator at the tip of the Malay Peninsula, the island was a haven for Malay pirates and Chinese and Arab traders.

Kuala Lumpur (Port Kelang)

From a lawless huddle of Kampongs in the trackless jungle, Kuala Lumpur, the Capital City has grown into a fascinating metropolis. Steel and glass towers stand side by side with graceful stone colonial buildings and mosques adorned with slender marinets.

The commercial, financial, economic and cultural heart of Maylasia, Kuala Lumpur (better known as KL), is a melting pot. Its population of 1.6 million is comprised of Malays, Chinese, Indians, and a mix of different cultures including Eurasians and others.

Penang

In 1786 Francis Light persuaded the Sultan of Kedah to cede Pulau Pinang - The "Isle of Betel Nut" - to the English crown. Legend has it that Light persuaded his men to clear the overgrown island of Penang by firing a cannon filled with gold coins into the jungle as an incentive. The island was renamed Prince of Wales Island, and its major town was renamed George Town after King George III. Whether the story is true or not, Penang quickly became a major trading port for tea, spices, china and cloth. Here European, Malaysian, Hindu, Arabic and Chines cultures met, melded and flourished.

Today George Town is a cosmopolitan city that has preserved its unique heritage and its exotic blend of clutures. George Town is perhaps the best preserved city in South East Asia. It boasts a Europeanstyle esplanade and a wealth of temples, mosques and Chinese clan houses.

Phuket

Hailed as the "Pearl of the Andaman Sea", this island off Thailand's long Southern coast boasts a colourful history. A crossroads for trade, Phuket's importance over the past 500 years stemmed from the island's natural resources. which include tin, hardwoods and rubber. In the past halfcentury, Phuket has enjoyed wide popularity as one of the premier travel destinations in South East Asia. Travellers are drawn to the islands beaches. crystalline waters and dramtic coastlines.

Weather too chilly? Too wet? Too muddy? We are all more than capable of finding an excuse not to walk during winter's cooler climes. However, in my experience, getting out in the hills and valleys for a brisk hike is the most invigorating and satisfying activity for a cold January day. Several layers of clothing, plus scarves, gloves, woolly hats and thick socks - these will keep the warmth in, and those biting winds out. We rarely venture out without waterproofs either, and galters to prevent mud from seeping inside the boots. So far this winter, we've experienced gale force gusts, heavy rain and gruesome mud in places, but no snow as yet...!

One recent Sunday walk was up in the Liantisilios, near Llangollen. It was a cold, cloudy, windy day, but the forecast promised improvements later. We'd started from the National Trust car park by the Horseshoe Falls. From there, a rather arduous climb took us up to the disused Berwyn Quarry, where we stopped for a well earned breather, coffee and a alorious view down the Dee Valley. Up a little higher, we veered northwards to the summit of Moel y Faen. On this open stretch, the full force of the icy wind hit us full on, so admiring the view across the Vale of Clwyd was necessarily curtailed! From here, we dropped down to the Ponderosa Cafe, above the Horseshoe Pass. This wasn't to be our lunch stop, though. We found an alfresco picnic stop in the shelter of some tussocky ground further on, below the summit of Cyrn y Brain. The sun had come out by this time, though we were still glad of our layers and our hot flasks! Looking southwards, we could see the route we'd taken up from the old quarry, and there was a great feeling of satisfaction that most of the climbing was behind us. From this point onwards is my favourite part of the walk. Skirting the upper slopes of Cyrn y Brain, we briefly joined the Clwydian Way, before heading in a southerly direction across fields to meet the old quarry track that runs parallel to the Eglwyseg Valley below. The reason I love this section so much is the sensational view across to Eglwyseg Rocks that accompanies you back down towards the valley. That particular day, patchy sunshine had brought out the contrasting colours of the bracken, the trees and the limestone rocks. It was a truly glorious sight, and made the climb and the battle against the gusts higher up very worthwhile. Lower down, we were sheltered from these winds, and actually got rather hot underneath our lavers! This didn't last long, though, as temperatures soon plummet, along with sun, during the winter months. Thankfully, there's usually a drop of coffee left in the flasks for an afternoon break, and we finished this off before setting off for those last few miles.

Our return route took us temporarily back onto the Clwydian Way, before cutting across to skirt the bottom of Velvet Hill.

Till slovely little footpath undulates gently along the hillisch above Valle Crucis Abbey, before heading into the trees above the river, and to the car park. There hadn't been too much mud that day, and the boots were far from gruesome, but it was good to change into lightweight shoes prior to a brief rest and refreshment in the nearby pub. This welcoming hostelry did a brisk trade in hot drinks when 24 tired but exhilarated ramblers tumbled into their bar after a fairly tough hike!

Our 'B' walk that day was nearly 10 miles long. On the same day, a shorter, easier 'C' walk had been offered in the Dee Valley, starting from Llangollen, so there was a good influx of walkers in the area from our Club.

Members often comment on how glad they were that they didn't turn the alarm clock off and have a lie-in on an inclement morning. Whatever the weather, it's still great to be stepping out in the hills, valleys and woods, and if you fancy walking with a group, what better way to do this than by joining a local rambling club?

CHESTER RAMBLING & HILL WALKING CLUB

We are a Chester-based walking club, offering up to 3 grades of walks on Sundays, and alternate Wednesdays, and a programme of short summer rambles on Tuesday evenings. The summer season also sees a flurry of camping activity, when we pack up our tents, hook up the caravans, book B & B's and cottages, and head off to destinations slightly further affeld for a few days.

Led by experienced leaders, our Sunday and Wednesday walks last approx 6 hours, so bring picnic, flask and water. These hikes cover Snowdonia and North Wales, Cheshire, Shropshire, Lancashire and Derbyshire. Sorry - no dogs or under 18s allowed on our walks.

The club runs mid-week social evenings during the winter, including supper evenings, quiz nights and the ever popular Christmas party!

Why not come and join us on a trial basis without paying the fee?

Keeping you motoring

Citroën C3 Flair S&S PureTech 110 manual: Dance With You Tonight

The all new C3 Flair S&S PureTech 110, a Citroën in the grand tradition, a combination of Flair and engineering which have created a car that Citroën say is 'As Unique As You Are.'

Citroën make a great play of the customisation options available as there are 9 exterior colours to chose from, 3 roof colours, and the option of a monotone body colour roof which combine with touches of colour including fog light surrounds, door mirrors and rear quarter panels. You can go with or without the excellent Airbump® panels although I can't see why you would want to, so integral are they to the overall look and feel to the car and to top it all there's also an optional panoramic sunroof which floods the cabin with natural light.

Complimenting the superb colour palette are clever touches that delight and intrigue in equal measures created by the bold choices all around. The steep front of the car displays the Citroën's clever headlights emerging from the iconic badge and grille, whilst each further detail, Citroën say, from the lighting signature with LED daytime-running lights, wheel arch extensions, side Airbump® panels and stunning 3D rear light clusters contribute to the C3's Unique and assertive styling. The C3 Flair S&S PureTech 110 manual on test looks superb in it's metallic Perla Nera Black paintwork, white highlights on it's Airbump® panels and stunning optional 17 inch diamond cut 'Cross' alloy wheels. There's no doubt in my mind that this is a car that deserves that all important rearward glance as you walk away.

Citroën have created a comfortable and contemporary interior with soft contact points and noise levels, interior space and versatility, intuitive and useful technology and pure, calm comfort all round. What I really is how the C3 combines traditional materials such as the beautifully finished overstitched door straps with the high quality, soft touch modern plastics and technologies that surround you.

With air vents, door card detailing and numerous little touches that reflect the Airbump® technology that's so important to Citroën and the look of the C3, it's no surprise to find that same level of care and attention being applied to the technology and driving aids present. Helpfully, the Citroën's variety of technologies are easily controlled through the central 7 inch touch screen making it easy to set the car and it's features up exactly as you would like.

Rather impressively, the C3 includes: Hill Start Assist, Lane Departure Warning System, Coffee Break Alert, Speed Limit Recognition And Recommendations, Cruise Control/Speed Limiter With Speed Limit Setting, Keyless Entry And Start, New Active Safety Brake, Reversing Camera and the incredibly useful Blind Spot Monitoring System, every Car should come with this. If it's ease of use you want then look no further. Space for up to five adults and their luggage whilst the C3's suspension does what Citroën historically does best, providing you with a sorted and forgiving ride quality. Pressing on and the C3 allows you to accurately track the road ahead and place the car where you want. Braking mid corner causes no untoward moments whilst the frugal PureTech 110 S&S three cylinder, direct injection, turbo charged engine gets on with the job in hand, producing 109bhp at 5500rpm and 151 ft/lb torque at 1500rpm yet still giving up to a claimed 61.4mpg on the combined cycle. Impressive indeed.

The C3 can be turned into something unique and tailored exactly to your own tastes from the numerous colours and styling options available is an added bonus. The Citroën C3 Flair S&S PureTech 110 manual, a job which Citroën have completed very well indeed.

Where will you go?

King Charles Tower, City Walls, Chester, Cheshire

*Dawn til Dusk

Maelstrom, a public artwork by artist David Cotterrell, will acknowledge Chester's evolving relationship with water and provide an excuse to stop and stare; to encourage alternate viewpoints and to reward urban curiosity and contemplation. The Maelstrom, or whirlpool, will be created by projected light and animation upon the canal, creating the illusion of shifting currents within the waterways that intermittently appear and disappear, creating a sense of wonder and surprise within.

The Countess Charity

Countess of Chester Hospital NHS

NHS Foundation Trust

A walk down Memory Lane is planned at The Countess of Chester

The Countess Charity launched its Memory Lane project back in September with support from the Mollington Banastre Hotel. The project has a target of £190,000 to enhance the environment on wards 50/51 that specialise in care for the elderly. Assist in their privacy and dignity at all times whilst in the care of the Countess of Chester Hospital, allowing independence and a sense of self during what can be a long and worrying stay in hospital.

The project will provide an area to walk in - Memory Lane – that will be stimulating for patients and have a lounge and a garden at the end of it. There is not a lot of quiet space in the busy Countess Hospital and this project will create areas of quiet and peace.

The project has already reached the £10,000 mark with plenty of activities planned for 2018. Staffs from wards 50 and 51 have been getting involved in the fundraising with a Christmas Tombola planned for the start of December, Jake Poole age 14 and his friend Dan Goldston, age 15, from Neston High decided to support the Memory Lane project by dressing up as Santa's and wakeboarding in Benllech Bay, Anglesey! Cambridge Rd Primary School has also joined the fundraising with a mad hair day and a cake sale to date.

The Memory Lane Project has received lots of support from the Chester Business Community with The Mollington Banastre Hotel, Zodeg, Radfield Home Care, 1539 Restaurant, Sanctuary Care - Upton Dene and Goodwin's Restaurant all naming the project as their Charity of the Year. You will see guys from Zodeq biking and running (If anyone is interested in running the Chester Half Marathon on October 7th 2018 for the Memory Lane Project please get in touch) to raise funds along with some unique special offers from Goodwin's Restaurant and 1539 to benefit the project.

Paul Cooney Managing Director from Zodeq said of the support

"We are very proud to be supporting this fantastic charity which carries out wonderful work within the local community."

As well as the businesses committed to supporting the project the fundraising team have an actioned packed calendar of events programmed in over the next 12 months to raise money for this project. 2018 will see the return of the popular Ladies Laughter Lunch at The Chester Grosvenor Hotel on March 10th 2018 for the Memory Lane project supported by Taittinger, Upton Dene Sanctuary Care and Hays Travel Chester.

New for the Countess Charity is 'The Countess Charity Challenge' to take place at the Countess in March 2018 supported by Radfield Home Care. Teams of 5 are asked to raise a minimum of £500 sponsorship money and will compete in a range of physical and mental activities such as Total Wipeout, Toxic Drop, Segway Ice Bucket Challenge, Hungry Hippo's and Rollerball, with Football darts as the deciding game for the Countess Charity Challenge Champions!

Hanna Clarke Corporate and Events Fundraising Manger at the Countess Charity is thrilled with the support from local businesses

"I am thrilled with the support we have had form local businesses for this project. Care of the elderly impacts many individuals so being able to have positive impact on this is fantastic"

Cycling has seen a leap in popularity in recent years, following successes in the Olympics and the Tour de France. But it does not all have to be about speed, lycra and super lightweight bikes. It is a very convenient means of travelling locally, it is free, it improves your health and parking is a doddle! There is also the other side of cycling; exploring country lanes, finding cafe's and hidden surprises on your doorstep, coming face to face with wildlife. In Chester we have a wealth of lanes and destinations, and a local cycling club that can take you there. Chester CTC (part of Cycling UK) meet twice a month for Sunday rides, once a month for a ladies only Saturday morning ride, Summer Wednesday evening rides and other events in between, such as treasure hunt and freewheeling competitions. And we meet up and ride all year; so if you get a bike or new cycling stuff for Christmas, why not come along and meet us? In 2017 we have been to Eastham Ferry, Jodrell Bank, Maeshafn, Northwich, Erddig, Willington to name but a few; ladies rides have been to, amongst others, Wepre Park, Cotebrook, Tarporley and a weekend away to Kirkby Stephen.
